BOUNDARY STONES OF 'IM' AND 'CHL'

BOUNDARY STONE

'CHL' AND 'IM'

'John Maund' (1772 - 1850) and 'Capel Hanbury Leigh' (1776 - 1861)

INSCRIPTION and NOTES

At the 'Northern' end of the 'Twmbarlwm' hill range starting from 'Upper Race' near to the town of 'Pontypool', whilst following the forest boundary line in a 'Westerly' direction towards 'Twyn Calch' and 'Mynydd Llwyd', many similarly inscribed boundary stones can be found.

On one side of the boundary stone are the inscribed initials 'CHL' for 'Capel Hanbury Leigh' of 'Pontypool Park' PLUS 'Roman numerals' and on the opposite side are the inscribed initials 'IM'.

With a limited amount of undertaken research, 'IM' could for stand for 'Iron Master', 'John Morgan of the 'Tredegar Estate' or 'John Maund' of 'Panteg', Monmouthshire, Wales.

Knowing the fact that the 'English' alphabet contains 26 letters, as opposed to that of the 'Roman' alphabet which only contains 23 letters (those missing letters being J, U, and W), it is believed that the 'I' in 'IM' is in fact a 'J' and therefore relates more to that of 'John Maund' of 'Panteg'. In addition, due to where the boundary stones are located, this increases the likelihood that the 'IM' does lean more towards that of 'John Maund' of 'Panteg'; but this is not conclusive.

Knowing the above information, I have undertaken further research in regard to the family 'Maund' with particular reference to that of 'John Maund (I)' (1772 – 1850) as he ties in with 'Capel Hanbury Leigh (1776 – 1861).
